

Aurora Jewelry Shop - About Us and FAQ

Our Story

Aurora Jewelry Shop was founded in 2015 as a small family-owned studio specializing in handcrafted fine jewelry. We work with a team of five in-house jewelers and source our stones from ethical, conflict-free suppliers. Every piece is inspected by hand before it leaves our workshop.

Frequently Asked Questions

Do you offer engagement ring consultations?

Yes. We offer free 45-minute consultations, in-store or via video call, to help you choose a setting, metal, and stone that fits your budget and style. We recommend booking at least one week in advance during the November-February engagement season.

Can I bring my own diamond or gemstone to be set?

Yes, we accept customer-provided stones for custom settings. A certified appraisal is required before we begin work, and we charge a $75 evaluation and setting fee separate from the design cost.

What is your price range?

Rings typically range from $400 to $5,000 depending on metal, stone size, and design complexity. Necklaces range from $150 to $3,500. Earrings range from $120 to $2,000. Bracelets range from $300 to $4,000.

Do you offer financing?

Yes, we partner with a third-party financing provider offering 0 percent APR for 6 months on purchases over $500, subject to credit approval.

How do I know my ring size?

We recommend an in-store sizing appointment for accuracy, but we also offer a free printable ring sizer you can request by email. Ring sizes can shift slightly with temperature and time of day, so we recommend measuring in the evening when fingers are at their largest.

Do you buy back or trade in old jewelry?

We offer trade-in credit toward a new purchase for gold and platinum pieces, valued at current market metal price. We do not offer cash buybacks.

Where are you located and what are your hours?

Our showroom is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10am to 6pm. We are closed Sundays and Mondays. Private appointments outside these hours can be arranged for custom order consultations.